

Relocom announced as finalist for PFM Award: Partners in Business Change

Relocom Limited are thrilled to announce their finalist status for the PFM magazine Partners in Business Change Award for 2007. Relocom Limited entered the award with Allen & Overy for the major relocation that was completed in December 2006. The relocation was one of the largest projects ever seen in Europe.

The Award bid centred around the relocation of Allen & Overy's IT infrastructure, as part of a wider business change project. Original project specification included 2500 desktop environments, 346 servers, full decommission, recommission and cleaning of all equipment. Additionally the team undertook; full asset audit/management, cable management, VOIP & new equipment rollout. The team excelled themselves. Post-relocation, Allen & Overy employees were surveyed regarding their experience of the move, with a 97% satisfaction response.

Now in their 14th year, the PFM awards are a very prestigious and highly coveted accolade within the facilities management market. Previous winners and entrants represent the crème de la crème of the market and include five-time winners, Harrow Green.

Philip Helsey, Managing Director of Relocom Limited says: "This is the first time Relocom have entered the PFM Awards, so to be nominated as a finalist is fantastic." Philip continued: "I am very excited about this opportunity. It's an ideal forum for us to showcase our expertise and to show the team, Relocom and Allen & Overy alike, just how well they've done."

Finalist status means that the team must now complete a rigorous interview process, in competition with two other entrants for the award. The judging panel consists of a team of highly respected facilities management professionals, at the peak of their careers.

The judges will be looking for evidence of:

- exceptional partnership
- innovation
- achievement of the project
- enthusiasm & belief of the team to achieve successful delivery of support and facilities services for their client.

Relocom Limited team leader, Clive Noonan has also been recognised for his personal commitment to the project. Clive is in contention for the Partnering Excellence Award. Winners of the Awards will be announced at a gala event to be held in London on 6th November 2007.
